Raymond Peck Agronomy Scholarship

Est. 1983

Raymond Peck graduated from PAMC in 1943. He joined the U.S. Army Air Corps until 1946 when he returned to the university. Raymond Peck was a professor and Head of Agronomy at PSU for over 30 years. At one time, Mr. Peck was labeled as one of the top experts in the Agronomy field. He supervised research, and was involved in several joint assignments between PSU and OSU. For a period of 27 years, Mr. Peck was actively engaged in conducting simulated hail damage studies on field crops, conducting workshops, and schools for the Crop Insurance Industry. Mr. Peck passed away in 2005.
