There once a kingdom called LOBOVILLE that had 4,000,000 people living there. This kingdom had 1 king and 50 knights. The knights were always ready to protect the kingdom from the 3,000 dragons that lurked in the forests. The knights were equipped with 700,000 arrows that they could fire at the dragons as they were flying overhead. There were 600 caves in the forest where the dragons could hide. Legend says that the dragons have been in the forest for 80,000 years.
